

This page contains links to all my photos, as well as others that have been sent in by other former volunteers, and people that have visited Niger through out the years. Feel free to e-mail me any pics you think should go on the site and I will post them. Of course you must send some send some text to go along with any photos you send in because every picture has a story. I reserve the right to edit both the photos and stories to make sure it can all fit.

FACT BOX:
The country of Niger is roughly twice the size of Texas

I have tried to divide the pictures into categories to make them easier to manage. Some may not fit the category they are in exactly but I did my best, so lay off.
